

They Got Their Show

Discussion Questions

1. If there was a Netflix-style docuseries about the person accused of killing your loved one, would you watch it?
2. Do you think that Nick will have peace now? If so, what is causing him to have that peace, and why didn't he have it sooner?
3. Does it matter to the story if Benjie was really innocent or guilty? Do your feelings about the story, or the decisions/changes in the characters change if Benjie secretly is the killer?
4. Is it fair that a Netflix investigation series helped prove Benjie's innocence and get him out of jail? Does it matter that there are other innocent people who weren't lucky enough to get their own Netflix special?
5. What would you have done (or said) if you had been Nick, driving the taxi, in the story?